War Is Feared as Soviets Invade Manchuria

REDS REPORTED RUSHING TROOPS ACROSS SIBERIA

Outposts Are Established Near Important City in China as War Lord Calls for Defenders.

ACTION FOLLOWS CONSULATE RAIDS

Direct Move Is Made Against Oriental Country—Aid Is Asked by Invaded Country.

London, June 14.—(Friday)—(P) The Express today prints a dispatch from Pekin, China, saying that Soviet Russia has launched the first direct war move against China, following the recent raids on Soviet consulates in Manchuria. Soviet troops were reported to have crossed the Siberian border and to have established outposts east of Manchuria.

The Soviets were said to be rushing reinforcements in special trains over the trans-Siberian railway.

Chang Hsiao-ling, dictator of Manchuria in succession to his father, the late Chang Teo-lin, has sent an urgent appeal to Nanking advising that measures be taken to protect his territory.

A plenary session of the central executive has been convened hurriedly to consider the situation.

The Russian outposts were said to be at Khabarovsk, northwestern Manchuria. Provincial troops were under arms at Helingsung, and others were available at Harbin and奉天.

The Express says that outer Mongolia may be already considered diplomatically the ally of Russia, whose next move probably would be occupation of part of Manchuria to hold up communications for recent raids on Soviet consulates is received and the ownership of the Chinese eastern railroads settled.

The government of Nanking was said to have been notified by its consuls in Russia that the consulates were surrounded by Russian troops.

RYAN IS RELEASED AFTER PAYMENT OF 'RUBBER' CHECKS

Paris, June 13.—(P) Thomas Fortune Ryan, son of John Barry Ryan, of New York, was released in custody at his lawyer's office after having been arrested in Paris on a charge of cashing bad checks to a value of several thousand dollars.

Ryan escaped the heavy swinging doors of La Sante prison after the checks had been made good. It was expected that he would be permitted to leave for the United States in a few days, the presiding judge advising that he be placed in a sanatorium.

"No more boozes for me," was all Ryan told a few friends gathered to celebrate his release.

This young man seemed greatly upset and nervous. Beyond expressing a desire to leave "for God's country" the sonorous words of the chief defendant was one of bitter disappointment that the chief defendant against him had been Harry's New York Bar, celebrated oasis for Americans visiting Paris. The New York Bar headed the list of plaintiffs against him.

French Airplane Seen 1,600 Miles From U. S. Coast

Two Vessels Report Sighting Yellow Bird Off
Newfoundland on Way to France.

PLAN OF HOOVER FOR ALIEN QUOTA REPEAL REJECTED

Senate Flouts Request of President—Strict Law
Goes in Effect July First as Result.

Bar Harbor, Maine, June 13.—(United News)—The coast guard cutter Tampa reported to the naval radio station here tonight that an airplane, believed to be the French monoplane Yellow Bird, had been sighted about 800 miles due west of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

The Tampa received a report from the S. S. Wytheville saying that an airplane passed overhead, flying east, at 5:40 p. m. eastern standard time.

Weather conditions were extremely favorable, according to the report from the Wytheville. The plane was flying with a light westerly wind behind it. Visibility was good, and barometric readings indicated a continuance of good weather.

The Tampa's message indicated that the Yellow Bird had covered approximately 1,600 miles of its flight to Paris, and was making excellent time—little better than 125 miles an hour.

Old Orchard, Maine, June 13.—(AP) Somewhere over the Atlantic tonight three young Frenchmen were thought to be driving their plane—the Yellow Bird—toward Paris.

The large single-seated monoplane, shipped from France for the flight, sped down the hard-packed sand of the beach here and at a speed of 94 miles an hour lifted gracefully into the air at 10:08 a. m., eastern day-light time.

While the French plane sailed its way to the capital of the European republic—and glory for its crew, Armento Lotti, Jr., sponsor and co-pilot; Jean Assolant, pilot; and Rene Letourneau, mechanic, the Green Flash, groomed for a hop to Rockland, in an attempt to take-off and lay tonight a mat of wreckage, hardly worth salvaging.

Roger Williams and Lewis A. Nance, pilot and navigator respectively, left the plane, escaped uninjured when the wheels spread and the plane nosed over and whirled about.

Stowaway Reported. There was a possibility that an added and unwanted passenger was also aboard. The men found the youth still seated in a youth chamber aboard while the motor of the plane was being warmed up and the parents of Arthur Schreiber, of Portland, were advised by two of his friends that he had stowed away.

The national origin provision was made a part of the 1924 act which called for restriction of immigration to 2 percent of the nationalities represented here, and a ceiling of 152,000.

Under the national origin basis this was the only provision that had been worked out. Three times Congress has postponed putting the new basic into operation.

Under the new basis, annual immigration would be cut from the 188,000 now allowed to 152,000.

Great Britain, Scotland and northern Ireland would be given the preponderance of the immigration, while Germany and the Scandinavian countries would lose from their present quotas.

The American Legion endorsed the national origin quota basis and this might be the result. Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, who said the legion had "wrapped itself in the American flag and declared the issue was American."

President Hoover already has issued the proclamation putting the new quota basis into effect July 1, as required by law, but he did so with a protest and an appeal for suspension.

RECORDER'S COURT AT VIDALIA UPHELD BY STATE TRIBUNAL

The recorder's court of the city of Vidalia, Toombs county, has a legal standing and is a regularly constituted court in spite of the fact that the only city council action in creating the court was the nomination and election of a recorder, the state supreme court held Thursday.

The supreme court pointed out that use of any language showing legislative or executive action in defining the court involved was that of Charlie McLeod, who was tried and convicted in February on a drunk and disorderly charge, and sentenced to serve 90 days. McLeod filed a petition for habeas corpus, and was sustained by the trial judge, but the trial court was reversed by the supreme court.

FLAG DAY OBSERVANCE IS PLANNED BY LEGION

Two Important Meetings Are Scheduled by Local Members Today.

Today, national Flag Day, finds two important meetings scheduled for members of the local American Legion post.

The regular post business meeting, set for 8 o'clock tonight at the legion hall in the Bolling Jones building, delegates to the state convention will be selected and appropriate ceremonies will mark the observance of Flag Day.

The state convention is to be held at Brunswick, June 20 and 21, and in addition to the regular delegates a large number of Atlanta Legionnaires are expected to take advantage of special rates offered by the Southern railroad to attend the big "get together." Elaborate plans for the entertainment of the visitors have been made by the Brunswick post and the convention is expected to be one of the best yet held. The Forty and Eight will meet on June 19, preceding the convention.

The regular weekly luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 o'clock today at the Henry Grady hotel with Buddy Herries in charge of the program which is to include numbers by the Rhythm King's orchestra and some dancing.

Atlanta Seeking Junior Chamber Meeting in 1930

Flint, Mich., June 13.—(Special) Atlanta as the 1930 convention city and an Atlantan as president is the program of the large delegation of Atlantans attending the national Junior Chamber International convention, now in session here.

Headed by Jonathon Woody, president of the Atlanta Junior Chamber, and N. Baxter Maddox, past president and a vice president of the national organization, the Atlantans are staging a whirlwind campaign to bring the meeting to their home town. Atlanta literature is flooding the convention hall and "Atlanta in 1930" is the slogan that one meets on all sides. Brooklyn is furnishing the strongest opposition to the southerners.

In the meantime a less noisy but just as energetic campaign is being conducted looking to placing Mr. Maddox in the presidential chair. He has long been active in the work of the national organization and as a vice president is in the natural line of succession to the executive chair.

The Atlantans took a round-about route to the convention city going by way of Washington, New York and Montreal. In all three places they were warmly welcomed and entertained.

The opening of the convention Wednesday was marked by the big stag party held at night, at which a fast boxing and wrestling program provided diversion for the more than 600 guests. Today a trip to the great General Motors proving ground at Brighton, near here, furnished the principal attraction.

The convention will close Saturday night with the inaugural ball.

FIVE PLEAD GUILTY IN FEDERAL COURT TO 'DOPE' CHARGES

Five men pleaded guilty in federal court here Thursday to charges of violating the Harrison narcotic act.

Herbert Leary, who is said to have expressed a desire to get into the penitentiary to break himself of the drug habit, had a change of heart when he faced Judge S. H. Sibley and requested that he be put on probation instead. The judge granted his request, suspending a two-year sentence and setting his probationary period at three years.

James C. Castello and Emmett Clements were given 15 months each, while W. A. Spann, alias "Bill" Spann, drew a 15-months' sentence with the addition of a fine of $100 or two months on a prohibition charge.

Disposition of sentence in the case of Jimmy Cookie was postponed until June 20.

GAIN IN APPEALS FOR CHARITY TAX CITY'S AGENCIES

Increase of appeals for charity relief, which were said to be heavier for this season than ever before in Atlanta, have placed a burden upon the city's charitable usefulness that is unprecedented, according to a statement Thursday by Frank Miller, executive director of the Atlanta Community Chest.

Miller presented the service report of the Atlanta Welfare Society for May, which showed 981 families on the active list of the society, of whom 76 families badly needing attention could not be served "because of shortage of workers, lack of funds."

TEST OF SMALL LOAN ACT OF 1920 PLANNED

J. L. Morgan, Denied Writ of Habeas Corpus After Indictment, Is Appellant.

An effort to test the constitutionality of the Georgia small loan act of 1920 by the United States supreme court was on foot Tuesday. It was reported at the state capitol, T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general, was furnished with a copy of the proposed appeal. Chief Justice Richard B.

Russell, of the state supreme court, was out of the city Thursday and could not be reached by the attorneys for his sanction of the appeal, it was said.

The would-be appellant to the United States supreme court is J. L. Morgan, who was denied a writ of habeas corpus by Fulton superior court following indictment on a charge of violating the small loan act, the state supreme court having affirmed judgment of the lower court.

Morgan alleges that the small loan act is in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution. The appellant claims that the supreme court of Georgia erred in affirming judgment of superior court in refusing his writ in view of the question of the statute which undertakes to define the "loan" or credit as a crime is a term so general and indefinitely dependent upon the idiosyncrasies of the men who may happen to constitute the court and jury, and is such a term that honest and intelligent men are unable to ascertain what particular act or acts it seeks to condemn, and in that, in the nature of things, credit cannot be the subject-matter of a loan.

City and State Sunday Will Pay Tribute to Dad

"Everybody works but father—". So ran the old song; but somehow the world has a new conception of the quiet, gray-haired fellow who pays the bills and fixes broken window shades and who gets a glance at the newspaper only after mother has read the society items, sister has read the funnies and brother has devoured the sports.

In proof of this fact, next Sunday is a day set aside especially in his honor—national fathers' day. It's an occasion on which everyone can make it an event at which dad will be on the receiving end of "the daily good turn," and Girl Scouts and other similar organizations will do something to prove their love for father. Mother had her day in May. Now it's "the old man's" time.

DEMOCRATIC ATTEMPT TO AID FARM BEATEN

Effort To Limit Tariff Revision To Produce Losses in Committee.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—A democratic move for the senate finance committee to lay aside the house bill increasing import duties on general and limit tariff revision to agricultural products was defeated today by the republican majority of the committee.

The proposal was offered by Senator Kitchin, democrat, who declared revision should be confined to the farm schedule if the new tariff law was to conform to the views entertained by President Hoover. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, yesterday advocated such limitation in the Senate.

Senator Conzessi, republican, Michigan, was sustained in opposing the resolution by a vote of 11 to 7, the committeemen dividing strictly along party lines. The majority of the 11 republicans who voted against the Kitchin proposal included strong administration supporters. Of the eight democrats on the committee, only Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, was absent.

Republicans Surprised.

The minority move took the republicans by surprise, while the committee was hearing witness on committee methods or rate bases.

Before the motion was tabled, Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, had it amended for exclusion of sugar from the agricultural category.

Senator Hart, republican, Connecticut, contended the house had not confined his tariff recommendations to agriculture in his message to congress, but had proposed rate changes to aid other industries as well, especially those which have been "ruined" since the present tariff law was enacted in 1922.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the committee, advocated restriction of the revision to farm duties and suggested that other industries take their cases to the tariff commission where they might obtain relief under the flexible provisions.

May Carry Issue to Floor.

Whether the contest for limited rates will be carried to the senate floor was uncertain. Senator Reed said he would confer with his colleagues before deciding whether to offer his resolution in the senate. Senator

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 5

Rokoff had seen enough to convince him that Tarzan would not be the one to die dead this night. He telephoned the police. Arriving, they found Tarzan like a wild beast standing at bay. Before they could arrest him, he sprang to an open window, leaped across the walls to a tree, and disappeared upward.

Ator Simmons said he saw little chance for adoption of the proposal.

In addition to Senator Kitchin, a number of republican independents favoring revision to the farm schedule. Should a condition with the democrats be undertaken, as occurred in the debt ceiling contest, the vote doubtless would be close.

Witnesses divided again today in arguments presented before the full committee on valuation, some favoring retention of the present system of basing ad valorem rates on foreign values others, urging a change to United States value.

The first hearing on rates began late in the day before a sub-committee of paper and book duties headed by Senator Deneen, republican, Illinois.

CORONER'S VERDICT SAYS LOVER KILLED FIANCÉE AND SELF

Monroeville, N. J., June 13.—(AP)—A verdict of murder and suicide was returned tonight by the coroner's jury at the conclusion of an inquest into the deaths of Ruth Mowday Wilson and Horace Roberts, Jr.

The bodies, with bullet wounds in the head, were found in Miss Wilson's bedroom on the night of June 1.

Police and coroner's authority who investigated the case had agreed that Roberts shot the girl and then himself and that an inquest was unnecessary.

The bodies were exhumed this morning for a post mortem examination.

Members of both the Wilson and Roberts families, prominent in this section, were summoned as witnesses.

The jury, composed of five men and one woman, found that Roberts had shot the girl to death and then ended his own life while temporarily mentally deranged.

Horace Roberts, Sr., the young man's father, said the verdict was "just one" and one that he had expected.

HOUSE DEFEATS FARM AID DEBENTURES PLAN

Hoover Finally Wins Victory as Senate Is Expected To Yield.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—A farm relief bill drawn to meet the views of President Hoover was assured today by house rejection of the export debenture plan on a 250 to 113 vote.

The vote had been demanded by the senate. After debenture leaders there learned of the overwhelming majority against their proposal, they declared no further obstacles to enactment of agricultural legislation would be interposed by them.

The remaining procedure necessary to send the farm bill to the White House will be perfunctory. A joint conference committee will meet tomorrow and again report to both branches of congress asking approval of the administration bill rejected Tuesday by the senate.

The final action could be accomplished Saturday and the farm measure sent to the president before nightfall.

Motion By Tilson.

The house vote was taken on a motion by Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the majority leader, directing its conferees to insist upon the elimination of the debenture plan. Tilson, supported by 217 republicans and 33 democrats, while 100 democrats and 13 republicans voted against the administration.

The republicans who joined with the democrats in favor of debentures were Hull, Lampert, Browne, Nelson and Schneider, of Wisconsin; Campbell of Iowa; Christgau and Selvig, of Minnesota; James, of Michigan; Johnson, of Wisconsin; Williams of South Dakota; Lambrecht of Kansas, and Sinclair, of North Dakota.

Republicans not voting but paired in favor of debentures were Christensen, of South Dakota, and Frear, of Wisconsin.

Kvale, of Minnesota, the only farm-labor member in the house, was paired in favor of debentures.

Vote Taken Without Debate.

The vote was taken without debate. Representative Tilson, in offering his motion said by voting upon it the house would assure farm relief legislation in the quickest manner. None of the leaders raised the constitutional question of whether the house has the right to initiate debentures. This was the question against which the house had stood firm, after it was voted into the farm bill by the senate.

Cheers greeted the announcement of the vote and Speaker Longworth immediately named the conferees to make a formal notification of the house's action to the joint conference committee.

Senator McNary, of Oregon, called a meeting of this committee for tomorrow. It probably will last only long enough to vote to return the administrative bill to the house, ask the house to-morrow and ask its approval under the rules of both the senate and house, the measure then must lay over a day before it can be considered.

TENNESSEE GIRL WHO SLEW MAN ACQUITTED OF ACT

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 13.—(AP)—Eva Cofer, Tennessee mountain girl who killed Lee Atchley, Georgetown merchant, with a wagon spoke to avenge an insult, was acquitted by a jury today amid a turbulent courtroom scene.

Despite a warning from the bench, scores of the 700 spectators in circuit court rushed forward to congratulate the 21-year-old slayer. Officers surrounded the girl to prevent enthusiastic friends from injuring her in the crowd.

Miss Cofer killed Atchley two weeks ago after he was alleged to have attempted to embrace her in his store. Testifying at her trial, which began yesterday, the girl admitted administering the fatal blow, but said she did not know what she was doing because she would rather die than lose her character.

The widow testified that her husband had been drinking heavily, and that she was not impressed when he and Miss Cofer had words, because they were always laughing and joking together. Dr. W. E. Smith, who attended Atchley, said the blow over the head killed him. He also said Miss Cofer had been under his care for two years for nervous disorders.

Witnesses were called for a few moments but quickly regained her composure in the arms of relatives. The demonstration was halted after several minutes, and the courtroom cleared.

SENATE CONFIRMS TILSON; OTHERS ALSO APPROVED

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—The Senate confirmed the nomination of Frederick A. Tilson, of Michigan, to be third assistant postmaster general.

The nominations of Robert S. Regan, of Pennsylvania, to be purchasing agent of the postoffice department and George C. White, of Texas, to be United States marshal for the southern district of Texas also were confirmed.

Quickly climbing the tree, Tarzan found its top opposite a roof. The mules that for years had sent him hurtling through the tree-tops of his primeval forest quickly cleared the distance. From this building he swiftly leaped to another, then to the ground, and soon was safe at home—and asleep.

Lieutenant d'Arnot had succeeded in obtaining for Tarzan a commission in the diplomatic service. It required great physical courage and was a secret mission. Tarzan was overjoyed, for it promised adventure. And so it came that he bade his friend and Paris adieu and crossed to northern Africa.

A certain officer had stolen information of great value, which his government suspected a rival power desired. A noted Parisienne, in a jealous mood, had caused suspicion to rest upon him. To obtain these documents and keep an eye on the traitor was Tarzan's task when, disguised as an American traveler, he arrived in Algiers.

HEAVY CIVIL DOCKET DELAYS COURT WORK

Trial of Slicer To Be Last Criminal Case Heard Before July 1.

Because the trial of J. Sam Slicer, former president of the defunct Colonial Trust Company, is expected to occupy the time of Superior Court Judge Virlyn R. Moore's court for the next two weeks and three of the remaining four superior court judges are to hear civil cases only, it was said Thursday at the courthouse that no other criminal cases will be tried until after July 1.

The civil division of the court is

"I NEVER DREAMED
THERE COULD BE SUCH A MEDICINE"

"I Only Wish I Could Tell
Every Sufferer About Sargon," Says Mrs. May.
Now Well.

"It's hard to believe that just four weeks' treatment, taking Sargon, has made me well and strong again—but it has! What's more, I've gained nine pounds and I'm so proud and happy,

MRS. EMMIE MAY.

I wish I could tell every sufferer about this wonderful new medicine.

"When a woman is a widow and has two children to support these days, she'll work when she can't rest, and sit up when I should have stopped. I am a seamstress and nobody knows what a trial it was to keep at my work, suffering like I was, and my nerves just went all to pieces under the strain. I was dreadfully weak, and I suffered from a number of attacks of stomach trouble that had made my life miserable for four years. As little as I ate, I nearly always had acute pains in the pit of my stomach and in my right side. Sometimes they extended up around my heart and I could hardly breathe; then there was so much acid in my system that it caused pain in the back of my neck that I couldn't even lie down on my back when I tried to sleep. I had headaches continually and was badly constipated. I just couldn't keep up with my work and my income dropped to almost nothing. It didn't seem like anything would do me any good, and I was almost desperate when I started taking Sargon."

"How thankful I am for Sargon! I never dreamed there could be such a wonderful medicine! It has driven away all my trouble, and my appetite and restored me to splendid health. My appetite is so much better and I eat anything I like without having a sign of stomach trouble. I've gained nine pounds and my whole system is strengthened. It's wonderful not to be nervous any more, and to enjoy refreshing sleep and wake up feeling fine, ready to go about my work cheerfully."

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills regulated me perfectly, without the least nausea or griping, and I never have any more headaches."

"To my mind and experience, there's not a medicine in the world to compare with Sargon, and every praise it receives is fully justified."

The above grateful statement was made recently by Mrs. Emmie May, highly esteemed member of 151 First St., Atlanta. Mrs. May is a member of the Christian church.

A special Sargon representative is explaining the merits of this new medicine to hundreds of people daily at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street. Sargon may also be obtained at Jacobs' drug stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

many months behind schedule and the judges have decided to clear it up as much as possible before the end of the May term of court on June 30. The decision to abandon the criminal cases means that the remaining cases, including those of H. C. Turner, former city electrician, and Sam Bonner, electrical contractor, under indictment for alleged fraud in the letting of city contracts, and those of Strader W. Carson, his son, W. Cofford, Carson's manager, and brokers, accused of larceny after trust, likely will go over until next month.

The trial of Slicer, which opened Tuesday, is proceeding slowly. H. T. Green, formerly a bookkeeper at the bank, whose position is as agent of embankment in connection with the failure of the institution, was on the stand all day Thursday undergoing direct examination by Assistant Solicitor-General John Hudson. He will take the stand again today.

The trial of Slicer, which opened only by occasional interrupted classes, between Hudson and Ben Conyers, of the Slicer defense staff. His testimony chiefly concerned technicalities in connection with his work and the operations of the bank.

More than thirty witnesses have been summoned and it is expected that the state will use most of them in its direct testimony.

CHILD PRODIGY
TO GIVE DARING
WATER EXHIBITS

Atlanta will be given a daring aquatic exhibition when 7-year-old Palm Tippy will unleash his bag of tricks at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Piedmont park. Tippy is known as a child prodigy because of his almost unbelievable water feats. He has doubled for motion picture stars and performed stunts in circuses and shows in all parts of the country.

The appearance will be made possible through the No-Grace Billing Company of America, of which Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, of the seventh ward, is local manager. The parks department headed by L. L. Wallis, is sponsoring the exhibition.

Palm Tippy is said to be the youngest person ever recommended for a Carnegie medal because of heroic rescue.

When less than four years old, he dragged the half-drowned form of his companion from the waters of the Great Lakes.

He will appear at Piedmont park again at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and again at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. His third performance at the park will be at 8 o'clock Monday night when his famous fire dive will be demonstrated. He will dive into a burning lake from the top of the tallest tower at Piedmont as a feature of the event.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of next week he will give exhibitions at 4 o'clock at the Grant park lake.

DR. DAVID MARX TO CONFIRM CLASS AT TEMPLE TODAY

Sea Island Beach Club
Opens Summer Season
With Dance Saturday

Sea Island Beach, Saint Simons Island, Ga., June 13.—The Casino Club at Sea Island has announced the opening of a carnival dance for Saturday night. This opening of the popular dance casino on the ocean-front is but one of a series of events that ushers in the brilliant summer season which is assured to be a success.

There will be many added attractions and features of entertainment on the island over the weekend beginning with the arrival, reception and entertainment of the squadron of Fair Form flyers (a yacht owners' race from each year) from New York, scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The dance that night promises to be an outstanding social event that will be attended not only by residents of the vicinity and the many visitors from the north, but by representatives of pleasure-seekers throughout the state. Those attending will encounter many pleasant surprises during the evening and will find the island well equipped with a variety of recreational facilities to entertain those who come for long stays.

Tom Brown, who has just completed a successful season at the famous Everglades Club, of Palm Beach, with his aggregation of musical talent, has been engaged for the season.

This is the second summer season for Tom Brown at Sea Island. It proved a remarkably successful season last year and its attractiveness is familiar to a great many who have visited Howard Coffin's development on the Georgia coast. Those who go again this year will notice many changes and added facilities for comfortable rest and healthful recreation.

Travel Headaches
Due to Nerve Strain

Long motor and train trips through the glare and dust and with the confinement and uneasy feeling often prove too great a strain on the nervous system. This results in headaches, drowsiness and highly excited nervous conditions. Decapine is so pleasant to take and so effective on the excited nerves and stops the headache, thousands carry it with them on their trips. You, too, will find it a most helpful companion. Being liquid, Capidine acts almost immediately much faster than tablets and powders.

For over 30 years Capidine has been bringing grateful relief to millions who suffer from nerve pains, such as headache, neuralgic, rheumatic and periodic pains. It contains no opiates and relieves pain by gently soothing the nerves, not by deadening them. Sold by druggists in 30c and 60c sizes.—(adv.)

Menu for Today

A little bit of everything in the weather line is regarded as possible for Atlanta today.

C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, made it known Thursday afternoon that the weather would be characterized by clear skies; that this afternoon probably will witness the gathering of various and sundry clouds, and that there is just a chance for a little precipitation about sunset or shortly thereafter. Little change in the prevailing temperature is anticipated.

The veteran bureau chief has abundantly despaired of producing any real summer weather hereabouts.

"Here it is the middle of June and not a 90° on the books this year," he complains.

The fact that the minimum

Thursday morning was 71, the mercury just refused to get above 87 during the course of the day. The top figure today will be about 88, Mr. von Herrmann figures.

Lake Arrowhead, Cal., June 13.—(P)—Mary Aiken Carewe, former film actress and divorced wife of Erwin Carewe, motion picture director and producer, today confirmed reports that she and Carewe are to remarry.

The Carewes were divorced in Mexico in 1925. Mrs. Carewe said that as soon as Carewe, now in New York, returned to California, the ceremony would be performed. The exact time and place, she said, had not been decided.

"The wedding will take place in the near future," she said, "but other than that I cannot say."

London, June 13.—(P)—It is stated that later today Ambassador Dawes will travel to Scotland Sunday to meet Premier MacDonald at Forbes, a little town 17 miles from Lossiemouth, where the premier is spending a short vacation.

The new ambassador will be received by King George at Windsor castle Saturday morning. After presenting his credentials, the presentation taking place possibly within 48 hours of his landing at Southampton from the Olympic.

This procedure is necessary according to the code observed by diplomats which would not sanction an interview with the foreign minister prior to presentation to his majesty.

Meet at Lunch.
At Lossiemouth Mr. MacDonald told an interviewer with regard to his prospective visitor: "We shall meet over the luncheon table and in the short space of three or four hours great questions of Anglo-American co-operation in the cause of disarmament and permanent peace will be opened."

It was said plans for the premier's projected visit to the United States depended upon the message brought him by Ambassador Dawes, who was assumed generally to have been authorized to convey a cordial invitation to Mr. MacDonald.

Mr. MacDonald, it was understood, will receive General Dawes as regards the program of his visit, and the scope of his discussions while in the United States would depend upon the ambassador's advice.

DAWES, MACDONALD TO HOLD MEETING.
Lossiemouth, Scotland, June 13.—(P)—The little town of Forbes, 17 miles from Lossiemouth, where Great Britain's new Ambassador to the United States is staying, will be the scene of a Sunday talk between Premier MacDonald and Charles G. Dawes, the new American ambassador, on Anglo-American relations.

Mr. MacDonald himself revealed this today in an interview at his Losslemouth home, "The Hills." Sitting on his veranda, attired in plus fours, after returning from an early morning walk, he said:

"We shall meet over the luncheon table and in the short space of three or four hours the great questions of Anglo-American co-operation in the cause of disarmament and permanent peace will be opened."

On Both Sides.
The prime minister said it was well known that the determination existed on both sides of the Atlantic to come to some form of understanding, and he reiterated his own personal feelings in saying:

"I hope that nothing human beings can remove will stand in the way of this attainment. My talk with General Dawes will be the most informal thing that has ever happened. In the ordinary course of events it could not be necessary for General Dawes, the newly arrived American ambassador, to see me at once, but the position of affairs is such that both he and I are anxious that there should be no delay in talking over this vital question."

Water Committee.
Only routine matters were considered Thursday afternoon at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the water committee of city council. Alderman Claude Ashley, chairman, presiding.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON

Atlanta spot cotton closed firm, 15 points up at 19.05. Sales, 400; receipts, 174; shipments, 539; stocks, 15,346.

New York, June 13.—(P)—Rather a less favorable view of the weather news or outlook together with expectations of bullish government reports on domestic consumption and bull weevil emergence tomorrow seemed to dominate the situation in the cotton market here today. The demand was comparatively limited, however, and after selling up from 18.81 to 18.97 for October, the market met considerable realization with that delivery closing at 18.87, or about 10 points lower than the general market closely steady at net advances of 7 to 12 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 10 points on a late rally in the Liverpool market and continued reports of a heavy boll weevil infestation in the south. A more optimistic view of prospects for the enactment of farm relief legislation no doubt contributed to the advance which carried the market gradually higher during the middle of the day.

Reports of showers or rains in Oklahoma and prospects for showers in the eastern belt seemed to offset the favorable features in the weather news otherwise, such as the seasonable temperatures, and probably brought in a little commission house buying. The advance while erratic, rose up from 18.62 to 18.78 for July and from 18.93 to 19.10 for December contracts.

Port receipts today, 2,201 bales. United States port stocks, 983,155 against 1,026,308 last year; exports were 20,678, making 7,816,567 so far this season.

BUYING ADVANCES

NEW ORLEANS PRICE

New Orleans, June 13.—(P)—Buying and covering in advance of tomorrow's official consumption and bull weevil reports advanced cotton prices practically $1 a bale today. October, after opening at 18.72 points higher, continued in final trading, however, and the option closed at 18.78, or 13 points net higher. The general market steady at net advances of 11 to 13 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively quiet, but trade firms made some advances of 5 to 7 points in response. The market started on the upgrade right after the start and although there were slight recessions on profit-taking from time to time, the highs of the day were made in late trading. Receipts, 2,201; for week 14,185; for year, 9,655,116; last year, 8,386,495; for 1928, 20,677; for week, 55,493; for year, 7,541,772; last year, 7,033,441. Stocks, 982,115; last year, 1,032,944. Stock on shipboard 65,912; last year, 106,086. Spot sales, 3,893; last year, 3,423.

Stock Letters.

New York, June 13.—(Special)—Activity in the early part of today's session was largely of public utility, but later in the session aggressive buying developed in other securities, notably in stocks of oil companies for highly favorable 1929 results. On the basis of valuations observed, the market has been led by Standard Oil, United States Steel, Youngstown Steel, and other leading companies might well sell at higher prices.

HUBBARD HEROS & CO.

New York, June 13.—(Special)—During the day, the market showed a good deal of activity with a higher response to firmer values, a larger demand for spots in line with a general advance over the bull situation in the cotton region.

Interest in stocks appears fully justified in view of the excellent current financial condition of the oil companies.

There is no question but that it is considerably more important that the oil companies will be issued tomorrow. It is generally expected that the consumption remains strong, and the market may be said that the cotton trade is a whole anticipates a bull weevil report.

New Orleans, June 13.—(Special)—The market shows a decided gain in value today with values higher in response to firmer values, a larger demand for spots in line with a general advance over the bull situation in the cotton region.

New York, June 13.—(Special)—Interest in stocks of high-grade stocks has been very noticeable but it was not apparent until yesterday, to what extent the market had digested the buying that had occurred the fating supply.

The very significant feature of the oil shares remains in the face of the expected and unfavorable development at the Colorado Springs conference.

Baptist Missionary Union Closes
Annual Meeting

Forsyth, Ga., June 13.—Dr. Lomie D. Newton, pastor of Druid Hills Baptist church, made the closing address of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union annual convention at Besse Tift college this afternoon. Besides the speakers were Mrs. Rosalie Mills Appleby, of Brazil, the closing program featured the memorial service, led by Mrs. T. L. Lewis, and reports by Mrs. Taul White, of Rome, on mission study; Mrs. W. T. Martin, on personnel service; and Mrs. J. H. Zech, on publicity. The trustees for the Mary P. Willingham school at Blue Ridge were named and all the officers were re-elected, with the exception of Mrs. F. W. Withoff, of Fort Valley, vice president for the West Central division. Mrs. Withoff has been for years one of the most valuable officers of the union. The annual convention of the union has been held for three consecutive years in Forsyth at Besse Tift college, and on account of its central, convenient location for all parts of the state body will continue there again in June, 1930.

CHAUFFEUR FALLS
SIX FLOORS, LIVES TO MAKE APOLOGY

New York, June 13.—(P)—People who sleep on slanting roofs shouldn't fall out of bed, but it doesn't seem to matter much even if they do. James Daly, a chauffeur who works at night, went to sleep today on the roof of the six-story building in Ninth avenue where he lives. He rolled over in his sleep.

A clothes-line at the fourth story snapped under his weight but slowed him up some. Another at the second floor did the same. A line in the back yard, on which Mrs. Margaret Joyce, Daly's wife, was drying laundry clothes at the time, held. Daly, however, was unable to hang on and fell the remaining few feet to the ground.

James Daly apologized to Mrs. Joyce for breaking her clothes lines and after examination by an ambulance surgeon went for a taxi drive in the park to consider some better place to sleep in hot weather.

HOOVER ASKED TO MAKE THREE JULY 4 SPEECHES

President Considers Invitations to Independence Day Observance.

Washington, June 13.—(P)—President Hoover is considering three invitations to make Independence Day addresses and the sponsors of each are hopeful.

They would take him to Philadelphia for the annual celebration at Independence Hall, to New York for the Fourth of July meeting of naturally naturalized American citizens, and to Asheville, N. C., to speak at a meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association.

The president's views as yet are unknown other than that if he makes a Fourth of July address he will leave the national capital to do it. This was learned when a delegation called at the White House with an invitation to speak here.

However, there have been indications that of the three the invitation to Philadelphia is proving most appealing. Mr. Hoover is said to like the idea of launching an Independence Day message to the American people from the spot upon which were held the stirring events which gave rise to the holiday.

Should he accept the New York invitation, Mr. Hoover would speak at a celebration which last year was addressed by Alfred E. Smith, then governor of New York, and his appearance in the campaign for the presidency. This gathering intends for immigrants who have become voters within the year, is held annually in front of the New York city hall.

Senator Tyron, of Tennessee, and Senator R. L. Jones, of North Carolina, have been active in securing the Asheville invitation. Both have called at the White House to urge its acceptance. It was presented several months ago by a delegation from the publishers' association.

HOOVER DENIES
DAVIS TO QUIT
LABOR OFFICE

Washington, June 13.—(P)—Creation of a federal commission to consider methods of relieving traffic congestion was proposed today in joint resolutions introduced in the senate and house.

Representative Robison, republican of Kentucky, declared that the citizens of the United States look to President Hoover to "straighten out the national traffic tangle." The resolutions propose that the commission study plans for national express motorways.

Chairman Phipps of the senate post roads committee introduced the measure in that branch. The commission would be made up of two senators, 10 members of the house, and one representative, each, of the labor, agriculture, post office, commerce, war and treasury departments. It would have a report ready for congress next fall.

Business men of all classes ought to cooperate with each other, certainly so far as the good which is in all business permits such cooperation.

Here's One Way to Solve the Traffic Problem

IT would simplify matters if the streets and buildings were made of rubber. So when traffic was heavy and fifteen or twenty autos and street cars wanted to pass a given point at the same time, the street could just stretch wider and let them all by at the same time.

It would simplify the traffic problem, but imagine trying to do a neat bit of typing at your desk in an office building that kept oscillating back and forth!

Engineers, however, somewhat doubt the practicability of this plan. Streets and buildings seem likely to remain fixed and rigid in their places for quite a long time, and until this automatically-contracting-and-expanding-street plan, or a better one, can be worked out, let's all take thought to try to make the most efficient use of such street space as we have.

Basically, it's a question of thoughtfulness for others, of giving others the same consideration in traffic you expect—the Golden Rule!

Your parked car on a busy downtown street helps to slow down traffic by making the street narrower. It delays Bill Jones, and hundreds of others, and ten minutes later Bill Jones' parked car delays you. Wouldn't it be better if both of you put your cars in a garage or parking lot and left the streets clear for moving traffic?

The streets aren't going to be any wider, not for a long time anyhow. So let's make the most efficient use of such street space as we have—for the good of all of us.

ALL-TALKING WITH ALL-STAR CAST

Cherie are making plenty of entertainment. They present vaudeville in unit fashion. They present the stage show in their several scenes in one of the hill. William Boyd and Carol Lombard have the stellar roles in the feature picture "High Voltage." This is an all-talking drama depicting the reaction of six people who are snowbound in a mountain house.

Loew's Capitol.

The sound film production of one of the most popular stars of the screen, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," is presented on the screen at Loew's Capitol, while on the stage Leo Singer's troupe of midgets heads the Loew vaudeville program. The all-star cast of the picture includes Dennis Brian, Robert Torres, Ernest Torrence, Don Alvarado and Henry B. Walthall. The 30 little people of the midget troupe present "Miniatures of 1929." In which they appear in circus acts, extravaganza scenes, instrumental and vocal numbers, and skillful acrobatic feats.

Howard.

The engagement of "The Rainbow Man" at the Howard theater will be concluded Saturday night. Eddie Dowling is starred in the picture, and is supported by Marian Nixon, Sam Hardy and Frankie Darro.

Rialto.

The Rialto is offering this week Jean Herbart in "The Girl on the Barge," Rupert Hensel's romance. In this story America's famous author has given to the screen and to the star an ideal cinema tale. Most of the plot is laid aboard a tug and barge plying the picturesque canals in upper New York state and river about a small girl and boy whose love is threatened by an unsympathetic father. Also on the program are Pathé sound news and "The Diplomats," Vitaphone performers.

Metropolitan.

Scoring a tremendous hit at the Metropolitan this week "Fox Movietone Follies of 1929" is given credit for being one of the greatest musical shows ever to be seen in Atlanta. It is a riot of beauty, rhythm and color—full of life and pep, with loads of beautiful girls, plus many new song and dance hits. Several already popular motion picture stars rise to greater heights and stage stars are made joyous.

Cameo.

Riding in today at a 60-mile-an-hour clip Hoot Gibson, likeable action star of the movies, hits the Cameo screen today in his very newest release, "The Winged Horseman." This film is said to have the usual Gibson flavor. The hero is a country boy who becomes an officer in Napoleon's army and does some amazing things. There is a splendid love interest and there are numerous dramatic scenes and much enjoyable comedy.

Alamo No. 2.
Rod La Rocque's new star picture, "The Fighting Eagle," which will be shown at the Alamo No. 2 theater today is a romantic photoplay of stirring times in the Philippines. Nippon is the hero. The hero is a country boy who becomes an officer in Napoleon's army and does some amazing things. There is a splendid love interest and there are numerous dramatic scenes and much enjoyable comedy.

Ponce de Leon.

Following on the heels of a curiously funny picture for two days in which George Jessel, famous comedian, was starred, Manager Scott and Davis have booked a more serious picture, "Lady of Chance," starring Norma Shearer. This big Metro picture is one of Norma's most interesting bits of dramatic acting. Besides this photoplay the stage will have its weekly feature, "The Amateur Nite" with some of Atlanta's best talent listed for tryouts.

Empire.

With the showing at the Empire theater, corner Georgia Avenue and Crew street, of "Oh Kay," the second in the series of Colleen Moore's pictures, "Amateur Night," also will be marked at that popular neighborhood house and a number of valuable prizes will be awarded by Manager Alpha A. Powell. To the most popular and talkative among stage entertainers, "Oh Kay" is acclaimed one of Miss Moore's most pleasing films.

81 Theater.

The best has been saved for the last, for the "Spirit of 1929," a sparkling comedy and musical colored show, reported to be the greatest on the road today, will climax the local midnight follies at the Empire Frolic Frolic 81 Decatur theater for white persons only. Those who have seen the show this week are unanimous in the opinion that it is the "best" colored show that has been here this season. Singing, dancing, comedy bits, novelty numbers and a well-organized orchestra are the highlights. Doors will open at 11:30 o'clock.

A Message From The Atlanta Constitution

The Constitution has only one regret about The Movietest.

Our regret is that it is neither practical nor possible for every contestant to win an automobile.

Anyone can be a good winner.

To be a good loser is a most severe test of character.

The Movietest, so far as The Atlanta Constitution was concerned, was a contest among contestants. The Atlanta Constitution neither had nor has any interest in any individual or set of individuals participating in the contest. The winning of the prizes was determined by mathematical certainty. The largest number of correct answers, as fully explained in the official rules, determined the winners and near-winners.

Throughout the contest, The Atlanta Constitution emphasized the rules, and the need for every contestant to understand the rules. The fair-minded contestant who lost can only blame himself for not sending in as many correct answers as someone else. But just the same, it is mighty hard to be a good loser. To all the "good losers" The Atlanta Constitution extends its sincerest wishes for "better luck next time."

Swedish Flyer's Plane Damaged Badly, Is Report

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 13.—(P)—Telegraphic advices from Reykjavik, Iceland, today said that the Swedish seaplane taking off from Copenhagen to Thingvalla Vain, a nearby lake, was more badly damaged than had been thought. Some further time may therefore elapse before a new take-off for Iqigut, Greenland, next stop in a projected Stockholm to New York flight.

Meanwhile, Captain Ahrensen, left June 1, said he was going to Nasviller on an insurance business trip and had not been seen since. Subsequently, Mr. Lewis said, a shortage was found in his accounts and on advice of the surety company he ordered a criminal audit. He soon charged forged endorsement and false breach of trust. The warrant was turned over to the sheriff at Alamo.

J. C. Hamlett, president of the Bank of Crockett Mills, said shortly after his arrival in the neighborhood of $5,500 was discovered in Mr. Henderson's accounts.

Mr. Henderson had been with the bank for several years. He is married and has two small children. Mr. Lewis said he talked with Mrs. Henderson and she expressed the belief her husband had met with foul play.

Reykjavik dispatches yesterday mentioned radiator trouble as holding up the Sveriges. Previously a broken fuel line and badly balanced propeller were spoken of but these were understood to have been repaired.

League President Bares Office Record in Muddled Deal

MARTIN REPORTS HOSTILITY--GRIFFITH

MARTIN BARES OWN RECORD IN MUDDLED DEAL

Spiller Made No Request for League Meeting, He Declares.

Memphis, Tenn., June 13. (AP) — President John D. Martin, of the Southern Association, tonight said that Clark Griffith had not personally communicated with him concerning the reported purchase of the Atlanta club of the Southern league.

When informed that the proposed purchase of the Atlanta club had been terminated and the deal called off, according to Griffith, President Martin issued the following statement clarifying the situation so far as it is known to him:

"Clark Griffith has not personally communicated with me concerning his reported purchase of the baseball interests of Mr. Spiller in Atlanta. The first and only communication I have received from him through a representative came on yesterday when a telegram was sent to me from a long distance phone from Atlanta and introduced himself as Mr. Evans of the law firm of Jones, Evans, Powers and Jones. He stated that his firm represented the Washington ball club and that his clients desired to know whether the Southern league has any objection to the transfer of the Atlanta franchise to the Washington club."

No Request Made.

"I told him that the president of the Southern league has the right under the constitution and act of incorporation to transfer a franchise, such matter falling exclusively within the jurisdiction of the league directors. I stated also that President Spiller, of the Atlanta Baseball Company, had not requested me to call a meeting of the board.

"In reply to the question of Mr. Evans as to whether in my opinion there would be opposition among the directors to the transfer of the franchise, I replied frankly that I thought there would be, but that the directors would be concerned with the transfer of the stock of the Atlanta Baseball Company.

"The Southern league is constituted by contracts between eight corporations of which the Atlanta is the Atlanta Baseball Company. The sale of the stock of the Atlanta Baseball Company from one individual to another is essentially and fundamentally an entirely different thing from the substitution of another corporation in the place of the Atlanta. The Atlanta company as a contracting party to membership in the voluntary unincorporated association, legally entitled the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs, and commonly called the Southern league, contracts with the contracting parties to such substitutions would without doubt be necessary.

LIMITS.

"On the other hand, I think the league directors could not prevent transfer of the Atlanta from its present ownership to an individual owning stock in a major league club, regardless of their opposition to major league ownership of minor league clubs. I would hope the public would understand that it will be necessary only when we found that Mr. Spiller had sold us something he could not deliver at the time he sold it, no vote having been taken."

Attorney Talks for Spiller.

R. J. Spiller, while he admitted that a vote was necessary to elect a new director or to elect a new president as a member of the board, declared that Griffith had not a leg to stand on and was seeking to take advantage of a technicality.

"He will buy the ball club," he said. "I have nothing to say. My attorney will talk for me. They have agreed to sell it to me."—Continued.

Atlanta legal representatives of Griffith asked Martin if there was any league ruling whereby the sale of the Crackers to the WASHINGTON BASEBALL CLUB could not be carried out.

A question seems to be: "To whom were the Crackers to be sold, to Clark Griffith, an individual, or to the Washington Baseball Club, a corporation?"

Beside the present muddle, the 14-game episode of 1928 seems positively puerile.

Washington Head Renounces Offer on Eve of Transfer.

Martin had and that a vote was necessary and none had been taken.

"Tremendously Disappointed."

"You can imagine my surprise when I learned that Mr. Spiller had sold us something he could not deliver. He had never intimated to me that any vote he might have been given to him would be, but that the directors would be concerned with the transfer of the stock of the Atlanta Baseball Club."

The Southern league is constituted by contracts between eight corporations of which the Atlanta is the Atlanta Baseball Company. The sale of the stock of the Atlanta Baseball Company from one individual to another is essentially and fundamentally an entirely different thing from the substitution of another corporation in the place of the Atlanta. The Atlanta company as a contracting party to membership in the voluntary unincorporated association, legally entitled the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs, and commonly called the Southern league, contracts with the contracting parties to such substitutions would without doubt be necessary.

LIMITS.

"On the other hand, I think the league directors could not prevent transfer of the Atlanta from its present ownership to an individual owning stock in a major league club, regardless of their opposition to major league ownership of minor league clubs. I would hope the public would understand that it will be necessary only when we found that Mr. Spiller had sold us something he could not deliver at the time he sold it, no vote having been taken."

R. J. Spiller, while he admitted that a vote was necessary to elect a new director or to elect a new president as a member of the board, declared that Griffith had not a leg to stand on and was seeking to take advantage of a technicality.

Beside the present muddle, the 14-game episode of 1928 seems positively puerile.

Clark Griffith says R. J. Spiller sold something he could not deliver and therefore he abrogates his contract to purchase the Crackers.

R. J. Spiller says the contract was duly drawn up, in accordance with Southern league rules, and that he will carry it to the courts to force the sale or collect damages.

John D. Martin, president of the Southern league, intimated in his statement last night that Spiller had informed him he had sold the Crackers to CLARK GRIFFITH.

TO CONNIE MACK.

Wave the flag for Connie Mack
For he has come back
After stumbling along all these years
Amid the bleachers' grinding jeers.
At last good old Connie's out on top,
This time the A's will not flop.

—I. M. Dunnley.

The above inspiring poem is the best of a large collection of heroic verses that has been produced in this section since the rise of the Clan McGuillicuddy. In fact, the line about "grinding jeers" is worth more money.

NOT SINCE THE NEXT TO THE LAST CAMPAIGN OF WILLIAM J. BRYAN HAS THE NEIGHBORHOOD BEEN SO STIRRED UP. SENTIMENT LONG BOTTLED UP IS BOILING OVER ON THE STOVE.

Good old Connie Mack and the Athletics after all these years are up there and going like a house afire. Nothing can stop them from winning a pennant . . . and Connie Mack wants just one more flag before he retires . . . and he is old now . . .

I DO NOT BELIEVE THE POETS OF THE REGION HAVE EVER SPEEDED UP PRODUCTION TO THIS EXTENT OVER ANY MAJOR LEAGUE SITUATION.

The Mackian uprising in the American league is making the muse ring the walkin' for more biscuits—take two and butter 'em while they're hot.

PRESIDENT HELPS.

Not often can a college president and a football coach discuss inside football and team problems on an equal footing. And rarely can a college president attend football practice and drop the head coach a useful hint afterward.

DR. JOHN J. TIGERT, PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, IS THAT EXCEPTIONAL SORT OF PRESIDENT WHO KNOWS AND LOVES FOOTBALL. FLORIDA IS PECULIARLY FORTUNATE TO HAVE HIM ON THE BRIDGE.

Charles Bachman, head football coach, was here early this week attending the demonstration of a gridiron cover at Tech and he mentioned Dr. Tigert as one of his football assets.

"He can watch football practice a few days and then tell me exactly how to handle each boy," said Coach Bachman. "He is a keen psychologist and, knowing the game as he does, he is a great help to the football establishment. During a game

GRANT PLAYS MOONEY TODAY

Atlantaans Meet for Siblings Title of Carolinas at Greenville.

Greenville, S. C., June 13.—(AP)—Atlanta's same finalists in the Carolinas' tennis tournament of last year will cross racquets again tomorrow for the championship of the sister states. Bryan Grant, school boy southern titleholder, today played brilliantly to eliminate Gus Gandy of the University of Florida, while Jack Mooney, his fellow townsmen beat Teddy Burwell, of Charlotte, in five long sets.

The Burwell-Mooney match made itself into one of the closest affairs in the Carolinas' history. Young Teddy took the opener, 6-3, while the Atlantaan was getting even. The second set was won by the fourth, 6-4. Burwell weakened considerably as the long games dragged on, however, and the tireless Mooney ran out. The scores were 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Feneau likewise took the first set of Grant, but dropped the second, third and fourth. The last saw the hard-hitting badly off form as Grant gave straight.

The Cracker, who collected outfit, slapped one to deep center and got around the bases with a beautiful hit of running to score.

Both games saw some heavy slugging, four home runs, six triples and three doubles being hit during the afternoon. The Travelers led in home runs with three, Willingham, the third baseman, getting two. Both teams had a base hit.

The Crackers, who collected outfit, slapped one to deep center and got around the bases with a beautiful hit of running to score.

The first game was won by the Crackers with a quick assault on Eckert which netted four runs in the first inning. They ran that score to an 8 to 4 victory only to drop the second contest 10 to 4 when the Travelers got an early lead and held it.

Dawson, American Star, in Quarter-Finals of English Amateur

Chicagoan Favored To Play in Final

American Stands Chance To Repeat Feats of Travis and Sweetser—Bobby Baugh Is Beaten.

By Frank H. King,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Sandwich, England, June 13.—(AP)—John Dawson, smiling young American, tonight still had his chance to win one of the rarest golfing trophies his homeland has seen, the British amateur championship crown, which only W. J. Travis and Jesse Sweetser have taken away from Britain.

Having beaten an Irishman and a Scotman yesterday, Dawson added two more Scotch scalps to his belt today, by winning from Edward Kyle and S. L. McKinlay and is among the select eight remaining for the play in the quarter-finals tomorrow morning.

England, in the person of A. J. Evans, London barrister and Kent country cricket star, which means much in this country's athletic scale, will attempt to stop Dawson's rush toward the trophy. Should Evans fail either a Scottish champion, Cyril Smith or the titled Michael Scott will oppose the Chicago youth in the semifinals tomorrow afternoon. If the Americans can stage another victorious day, he probably will find his opponent in the giant Cyril Tolley, biggest and one of the best British golfers.

BAUGH DEFEATED.

Bobby Baugh, Birmingham boy who captains the Oxford golf team, fell before Tolley today, leaving Dawson the only American survivor. Dawson, however, is one of the quietest representatives of American golf to visit Great Britain in recent years.

St. George's galleries like his golf-style and his friendly modest manner on the links. Experts who have been comparing him to Bobby Jones tonight are justifying their judgment by saying he has killed in every match after a slow start.

Not the least of Dawson's difficulties today was a gale sweeping toward the channel. It was golf under normal British seaside conditions but there was a way to run with the wind. Accuracy with putting was made difficult by the wind and putting problems ruined many a hope.

SCOTCH VICTIM.

Dawson's victim in the morning was a Scotman but he has been in the Malay states and after the match confessed that residence in the tropics had caused him to lose the art he learned at a boy of hitting the ball through a hole.

Business Men Back Augusta

Augusta, Ga., June 13.—(P)—Another effort to continue professional baseball in Augusta was made today at meeting over which Mayor W. B. Bell presided.

The Augusta baseball club franchise was turned over to the South Atlantic association Sunday.

Mayor Bell appointed a committee of business men and "Tyger" fans to consider any possible ways and means of carrying on and report Friday evening to Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the association, who will come here especially for the conference.

The committee, headed by the mayor, included J. Marvin Wolfe, former owner of the club; M. W. Partridge, Tom Barrett, Sam Ramsey, Harry Cremer, George Claussen, Euclid Clussens, Harrell Captain H. C. Brown and W. H. Howell.

Mr. Wolfe told today's meeting that the franchise could be bought for around $5,000 and an additional $10,000 would be required for successful operation of the club.

Turner Defeats Georgia Casualty

A. H. Turner team widened the breach between it and the second team in line to the extent of one full game by defeating Georgia Casualty Company, 6 to 2, Thursday in the Insurance league. The fielding of Awtry in the field and the pitching of Everett, who struck out 13 men, were the features of the game. Pirkle's timely hitting for Georgia Casualty furnished a couple of bright spots for the losers, but his contributions were not enough to make up the difference. Ga. Casualty 000 000 6 11. A. H. C. I. A. WINS.

Cotton Insurance Association won a game from Georgia Casualty, 15 to 8. The remarkable hitting of the C. I. A. team with 15 in all was the feature. The team took an early lead held it all the way in spite of rallies by the losers in the second and sixth innings.

Teague Winner At Druid Hills

Fred Teague defeated J. R. Pattillo 1 up in the first flight finals of the possible three flights of the Druid Hills golf club. This was the finish of the best tournament that has yet been staged at Druid Hills for the president's cup, and much good golf was played throughout the matches in all three flights.

James Floyd trimmed L. A. Kelly 2 in the final match of the second flight, while Harry Lee Allen fell before the onslaught of Hubert Merritt, 3-2, in the third flight champion ship match.

Prizes will be awarded to all of the winners and runners-up in all flights and, of course, the cup will go to Fred Teague.

TECH TICKET SALE OPENS

Mail Orders Will Close August 24—Season Tickets To Be $17.

Mutterings indicative of the coming football season were heard yesterday from the Georgia Tech Athletic Association to the effect that the old grade of the North Avenue school would be cared for at the ticket windows on a preference basis until Aug. 24.

Graduates and ex-members of all Tech classes may have four season tickets this season, with the preference being given as follows:

First—To all active members of the Georgia Tech Athletic Association in order of classes and receipt of request.

Second—to alumni and ex-members of classes who are not active in the Athletic Association in order of classes and receipt of request.

Third—the holder to care stakes, titling the holder to care stakes, titling the Tulane game, the Vanderbilt game and the Georgia game, all of which will be played outside of Atlanta.

The Tech athletic body has also made arrangements for the procuring of seats for Tech fans in the Georgia-Yale game which is to be played in Athens on October 12. The University of Georgia has reserved a block of good seats for the ex-Engineers and is disposing of them at the regular price of $3.00 each.

This is the general theory of the Tech board, stated that members of those classes which have graduated in recent years may find that the selection of seats which is available for them is not as good as those open to the general public in the downtown stores, and advise those men to pay a visit to these business houses before they come to the Flats for tickets. Should the selection in town be better than that offered at the school, Thiesen states that these seats will be sold at a higher price.

The Tech athletic body will refund the price of the duets ordered.

All games at Grant Field, unless otherwise specified:

Season ticket (home games only) ... $17.00

Oct. 1—Mississippi A. & M. 2.50

Oct. 12—Georgia—Homecoming 3.00

Oct. 26—Tulane (at New Orleans) 3.00

Nov. 2—Vanderbilt (at Nashville) 3.00

Nov. 16—Alabama 3.00

Dec. 2—Auburn (Tuskegee) 2.50

Dec. 13—Georgia (at Athens) 2.50

There will be a handling fee of 25¢ for each ticket taken by mail as that amount is practically taken up by registration and mailing charges alone.

WHY NOT?

John J. Tigert was one of the greatest fullbacks Vanderbilt ever developed. He was a Rhodes scholar and at Oxford thrived on psychology as a major. For several years he was professor of complicated subjects at the University of Kentucky and was head football coach for two years.

But alas, they made him United States commissioner of education and then Florida drafted him as president.

It is really a shame to spoil a good football coach that way.

SONNENBERG'S TACKLE.

In a news reel at Carter Barron's Metropolitan theater this week was a shot of Gus Sonnenberg, the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, in a match with Marin Plestina or somebody like that.

The champion is shown using his flying tackle. I had heard this great wrestling hold high press agented by Ralph McGill and was disappointed in what I saw.

Sonnenberg merely lowers his head and rushes at his man tackling him just above the knees. Imagine a football player practicing tackle on a "live" dummy that stood still and you have the scene.

And UNLESS THE VICTIM STANDS STILL AND OFFERS NO RESISTANCE TO THE TACKLE, THE MANEUVER IS WORTHLESS.

Any wide-awake wrestler can sidestep and ram Sonnenberg's face into the floor. Any smart grappler can use a stiff arm and keep poor Gus on the canvas all night.

A wrestler who could be caught by the Sonnenberg "flying" tackle should be arrested for parking.

Tom Angley Signs With Kansas City

Tom Angley, who had a tryout with the Chicago Cubs who drafted him from the Crackers this spring has signed with the Kansas City club in the American Association.

Tom caught his first game for the Blues against Indianapolis last Tuesday. He got one hit, a hard double to left, and was out trying to stretch it to a three bagger, having failed to learn in advance that Clyde Barnhart, the Indianapolis left fielder, has one of the best throwing arms in baseball.

The Kansas City team is in first place in the association and has been leading the league all season by a comfortable margin. Angley is the third catcher on the staff but may become its first.

HOSTILITY BALKED DEAL

league even if assured that a vote would give him permission and a place on the board of directors.

"I don't want to come into the league unless my associates and I would be welcome," he said. "We were positively assured by John D. Martin, president of the league, that there was very definite opposition.

That, coupled with the fact that no vote had been taken, left us nothing else to do but withdraw the offer and come through with it to Atlanta."

R. J. Spiller conferred with his attorney Thursday afternoon and again that evening.

"There is nothing to it," he said. "I think maybe Enyon will convince the other clubs that everybody will be all ironed out today." Griffith has bought the ball club. "It would damage me too much to let them break off this way. I will take the matter to the courts and fight it out as long as I have to. I'm going to make them go through with it."

GRIFFITH'S PROTEST NOW.

Griffith's intercession of the purchase came as a stunning surprise to the ball club and fans.

Unless Clark Griffith changes his mind before 6 o'clock this afternoon the Crackers will be without an owner until the courts decide. They will be left in charge of R. J. Spiller as custodian, but the court will decide the owner.

In spite of the fact that Tom Watson and President John D. Martin reported opposition to the sale of any Southern Association club to a non-member club, R. J. Spiller insisted that there was no opposition to this Crackers sale.

"I have heard from all of them," he said. "Bob Allen is in the city with the Little Rock team, and he isn't opposed. Nashville isn't. Midville isn't. The club from Birmingham and New Orleans. No vote was taken. I did not ask Mr. Martin to call for a vote, because none is necessary. It is just a technicality, and is in the constitution simply to keep undesirables off the board of directors. It cannot prohibit the sale of property that would be in restraint of trade."

Engel, Spiller stunned.

The public first learned of the proposed sale of the Crackers on Tuesday morning of last week when The Constitution carried a dispatch from Chattanooga saying that Clark Griffith had sent a telegram to Atlanta to the effect that he wanted to buy the club.

The club was actually sold Monday night, but the transaction was not made public until Tuesday morning. It was announced that Joe Engel, famous Senator scout, would be president. On Tuesday morning of this week Engel, accompanied by Enyon, arrived in Atlanta. On Wednesday Engel announced that players Stuffy Stewart and Joe Giard would be sent to the Crackers.

Engel found Engel active at Spiller's field. The cancellation of the deal left him and Spiller stunned with surprise.

Spiller insists that under baseball law the two players who are due today to the property of the Atlanta club, having been assigned him by Washington. This matter will be settled by Judge Landis, national baseball commissioner.

R. J. Spiller asserted that he would make no move until this afternoon, when he would "legally" transfer the club.

Joe Engel, who was almost a baseball president, said that he would stand by for orders.

Unless ordered to do so by Griffith, Engel will not be present to receive the club this afternoon at 6 o'clock, the hour provided in the agreement which Griffith has re-nounced.

OUTSIDERS WIN ON MUDDY TURF

Flor O'Neil Pays $162.86 for Two Dollars at Latonia.

By Orlo L. Robertson,

Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, June 13.—(P)—The ancient turf adage, "when track is muddy, play the mud," proved true today as Fortune shunned the favorites at the four major tracks.

Only on one track and that, Aqueduct, where the going was lightning fast, were the popular choices able to come away. At Washington Park, Fairmount Park and Latonia the backers of outsiders were handsomely rewarded.

At Latonia W. R. Estill's Flor O'Neil galloped home the winner in the sandlot game here yesterday for the Henderson team, smashing his glove in the path of a smashing line drive. He lacks four fingers on his glove hand, and the ball went steaming on his way, carrying the glove along.

Estill had to run for the ball but failed to see it. A moment later he picked up his glove and found the ball nestled in the pocket of the mitt.

LONGSHOT WINNERS.

Here is the list of Latonia's longshot winners with their prices, excluding the second and third events, which were as predicted: First, $162.86; $80.00, Frank Frazer Moran; $11.82; fifth race, Great Sport, $15.46; sixth race, Flor O'Neil $162.86. The seventh went to Coloratura, strongly backed favorite.

An investment of $14 on the seven winning longshots would have yielded $97.04 only in one race and that the feature event, did the winner pay less than $10 for each $2 paid in at the mutual windows. L. M. Severson's Paul Bunyan accounted for the Dixmoor purse and rewarded his backers $5.50 for each charge.

BANK OUTSIDERS.

Fairmount park kept pace with the other mid-western tracks as all seven of its racers on the card were won by rank outsiders. Essie in the second race paid $36.82 for a mutual ticket, but was topped by Ella Bank in the fourth, which paid back $32.00 for each.

With the thoroughbreds running true to form on the Metropolitan track the day's racing was featured by the Bayside steeplechase handicap, which went to Brice, owned by the Brooklyn stable. Jimmie, owned easily by G. H. Hitchcock's Darkness, ridden by C. H. Bostwick, was second and E. M. Byers' Taras Hall, third. Beelzebub, the favorite, pulled up in last place, many lengths back of the winners.

Macon Baseball Park Dedicated

Macon, Ga., June 13.—(AP)—A colorful holiday crowd approximating 5,000 persons and including Judge Klemens Moser, president and general director of baseball, and Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the Sally league, saw the Macon Peaches dedicate their new $70,000 baseball plant with a 3-2 victory over the league leading Asheville club today.

Judge Landis, himself, threw out the first ball and, together with the start of the game, players of both clubs, managers and umpires filed past the seats occupied by Landis and Bramham to shake hands with the visiting nobles.

Following the game, more than 200 invited guests, including the visiting baseball officials, newspapermen, players of both the Macon and Asheville clubs and city officials were guests of the Macon Baseball Association at an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the edge of the playing field.

PAOLINO LIKED BY CARPENTIER

Former Title Contender Watches Schmeling Prepare for Gotham Bout.

By Edward J. Neil.

Lakewood, N. J., June 13.—(AP)—George Carpenter, trim and lean as the red colt which won the Kentucky Derby last year, was shipped to England by his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Hertz, of Chicago, specifically for the Ascot cup classic.

BOOTS STOCK.

His early starts on this side of the water failed to justify the hopes of his backers, but his slashing victory in the Coronation cup convinced his standing. He likely will go to the post a strong favorite in the most fashionable event of the English turf.

The Ascot meet is a social function, as it has been since the duke of Cumberland organized the first meeting of a generation ago.

For generations it has been the custom for royalty to patronize the four days of racing in semi-state.

The king and queen may be absent this year, but the Prince of Wales is expected to supply the color.

Dressers and caterers, to the number of half a dozen, will be on hand.

The newest and most daring designs are being hoarded carefully for presentation before the fashionables who will attend the meet.

TRICK IS READY.

The track has been made ready, its shining turf clipped and rolled to perfect smoothness. Railings and enclosures have been painted, roads oiled and paths prepared for thousands of cars and coaches.

The Ascot meet is a gala event in the social world but it is even greater in the eyes of those who follow the horses. The cup race will attract the best of English running horses and the steeplechasers will find most of the leading Dempseys.

Americans in England will find another American-owned horse on the card, for Easter Hero, sensational jumper, recently purchased by J. H. Whitney, has been set down for one of the steeplechasers.

His diction rendered, Carpenter moved away, entered his big foreign car, and returned to New York to find that his return home was off again that brought him overseas again. While he did not say so, he left the impression that he believes Uzenden, once a member of the stable of his old manager, Francois Descamps, will overpower the German sensation in the 15-round Milk Fund battle at the Yankee stadium June 17.

Young Corbett Signs for Bout

San Francisco, June 13.—(AP)—Young Corbett, featherweight champion from Fresno, has signed to meet Clyde Chastain, of Fort Worth, Texas, here June 21. The ten-round bout is expected to furnish a comparison of respective abilities of Corbett and Jackie Fields, of Los Angeles.

Fields won a close decision over Chastain in Chicago a few weeks ago.

Chastain and Fields, outstanding contenders for the welterweight title, are great rivals, but efforts to match them during the past year have been unavailing.

Spiller To Receive Martin Trophy Today

Son of League President Will Present Cup for Father at Today's Game.

Rell J. Spiller will receive the Southern league attendance trophy won by Atlantans for their support of the Crackers at the opening day game from John D. Martin, Jr., and Alfred B. Pittman, Jr., of Memphis, today.

John D. Martin, president of the Southern league, was to have presented the cup, but will be detained in Memphis, due to the illness of his young daughter following an operation. He is sending his son and his law partner as his substitutes.

The telegram sent by Mr. Martin to the offices of The Constitution follows:

"On account of the illness of my seven-year-old daughter following an appendicitis operation Tuesday afternoon I regret that I will be unable to leave home for personal presentation of the attendance trophy won by Atlanta on opening day. Am sending my son, John D. Martin, Jr., and my law partner, Alfred B. Pittman, Jr., as official cup bearers and to do the honors of presentation for me at Friday's game."

All boxes and grandstand seats have been sold and a crowd of 25,000 is anticipated, the track management has announced.

Clyde Van Dusen Is Made Favorite

Chicago, June 13.—(AP)—Withdrawal of Blue Larkspur and the prospects for a muddy track have made Clyde Van Dusen a big favorite to capture the $50,000 added American Derby at Washington Park Saturday.

The Kentucky derby winner has been working out smoothly on the tracks and his only rivals are believed to be Jack High, African, Windy City and Karl Eitel.

All boxes and grandstand seats have been sold and a crowd of 25,000 is anticipated, the track management has announced.

Helen Jacobs Hurt; Out of Tourney

London, June 13.—(AP)—Miss Helen Jacobs, American tennis star from Berkeley, Cal., strained a muscle while playing in the Kent championship at the British Open tournament with Miss Evelyn Calver and was forced to retire from the tournament.

Miss Jacobs said she will rest until the Wimbledon championship meeting when she hopes to be fit again.

Two other clubs—the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox—have been bidding for Nekola's services.

COLLEGE STAR TO JOIN YANKS

Much-Sought Holy Cross Hurler Goes to Champions, Says Landis.

By George Kirksey.

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Unprecedented bidding for the services of a college baseball player has involved Frank Nekola, Holy Cross college's southpaw ace, in a unique situation.

An official bulletin issued in Chicago today by Commissioner K. M. Landis announced that Nekola had signed to play with the New York Yankees and would join the world champions on June 24.

Ed Barrow, secretary of the Yankees, denied here that Nekola had signed with the Yanks, saying that he had no knowledge of any such deal.

Up at Worcester, Mass., Nekola himself wondered whether he might have signed with the Yankees.

He said, "I am not sure, but I think I signed with the Yankees. I am not sure, but I think I signed with the Yankees."

California Favored In June 24 Regatta

Seven of Eight Olympic Championship Crew Seek Honors in Poughkeepsie Race.

By Alan J. Gould.

New York, June 13.—(AP)—On a flight back to London last summer, after California's great triumph in the Olympic eight-oared rowing finals, the stroke of the defeated British crew remarked:

"I never have seen before such power as the Americans showed. They seemed to radiate it. There was no beating those boys when they put their back to it."

This power, plus experience and confidence gained in world triumphs, is now back up the Hudson, polishing up for the open championship regatta at Poughkeepsie, June 24.

Seven of the eight Olympic crew still are seated in the "Golden Gate."

A new crew and a new coxswain have joined the championship array that set a new four-mile record last year in conquering Columbia.

BIG FAVORITE.

All the evidence, in other words, points to California as the big favorite to repeat the winning varsity crew. Columbia, also undefeated this season, is the east's chief hope. In fact no supporter of Columbia will concede anything to California as the renewal of their 1928 duel draws near.

Yet, while these two may be having trouble, the Yankees seem to be having trouble.

THE GUMPS—THE CALL OF THE WILD

THE UNKISSED BRIDE
By BERTA RUCK

SYDNEE.
Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is crushed by a letter from her fiance, announcing his engagement to another woman. Despairing of being released from the engagement, she goes to Dr. Travers and asks him to help her. "Gone is the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just lost a great deal of money in a business arrangement, so will be forced to give up his home in Harley street." Dr. Locke, a Londoner, tells Rex that he has just started a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France which he cannot take on, so suggests that he come to England for it. Rex agrees to the plan is that they want a married doctor and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he make a new post, Rex turns a deaf ear. Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's complaint, asks Rex for a divorce, says Dr. Travers if he will marry her he is in a business arrangement. "I'll marry you," says Rex, and finally asks her why he made it. She tells him that she is badly in need of an income and asks him to keep his house, keeping house and Percival Arthur has the time of his life. Joy and Rex become interested in each other.

INSTALLMENT XI.

THE INEVITABLE MEETING.
Joy took two quick steps to the saloon window behind her. The long head turned back to the balcony as though drawn by some invisible hand. Joy could not understand why it felt like that. Perhaps Rex Travers' late secretary (the young woman who had damaged his earnings and coaxed at the bad doctor she found "my deah! one of these magnet men!") might have understood?

"Good-by" Joy tossed the last candle before him, to fill his case before he went to the motor back door and took the box back to his hand. He lit the light "Thanks!" bent his head and touched his lips, fleetingly, against the fingers that left the box in his.

Quite a pretty courteous gesture. Most English ladies use it every day and are sometimes surprised at some Englishwoman's involuntary recoil against having her hand kissed, while the Englishwoman is also sometimes surprised at the unflattering mechanical coldness of the French or the continental forms that what from him is purely formal greeting is by the Englishman she knows made something more personal than a caress; it is an emotional admission.

"But could Rex possibly have meant the words? I do, flittering like a caught bird. "Or did he only do it like the count and all these other men abroad?" She felt that the shape of a man's mouth (generously and definitely cut, firm yet warmly velvety in texture) must be left visibly impressed upon her hand even as it seemed to glow upon her conscious cheek.

Lifting his head again, taking out a cigarette, Rex stepped back. Joy replying to her last "good-by" said "so long."

He all but added another word to that. Practically everybody nowadays uses it in the same friendly meaningless manner, to almost everybody else of their acquaintance. But not this man here was the only girl in the world to whom the present he must now use it. He shut his lips over it. Perhaps he did not know how clearly it appeared in his look? . . . Certainly he did not know that the girl read it, knew, as clearly as if he had uttered it, what in his mind he had in mind. "So long, darling."

Monaco, absurd toy principality that boasts a palace, with courtyards and sentries in musical comedy uniform, all of which might have come out of the play box of a giant child, can lay claim to one stated feature. This is the one promontory towering above the Mediterranean and crowned by the high white building of the Oceanic museum which rises as if sheer from those blue waters. From inland you enter, the bright of day, through big glass doors, this looming edifice. You pass through a hall with counters where French girls sell rainbow lined shools and mounted sea horses and strings of coral and cowries from every alien beach. Then you pass on through towards the vast salle on the right, which is not unlike rooms in our natural history museum at South Kensington, full of cases of stuffed polar bears, of seal of sea lion, above which the great skeletons of whales look like ships in building.

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, June 13.—Trading in stocks was heavier than for any day this week with the market moving upward. Public utility shares were leaders, many industries following including General Electric, Westinghouse, American Can, Industrial Alcohol, Motor.

The market moved up 15 points in the early trading, go to 20 yesterday's gain of 22 points. The company with a popular model is expected to have more orders than can be filled this year. It also expects to bring in some new in front of wheel drive model.

Overnight news that J. P. Morgan & Co. were tying up the loose ends in a $500,000,000 public utility merger held stock market until its start. General Electric and Westinghouse shares were strong on expectations of coming expansion in public utilities.

Details of the Morgan public utility merger were not available. However, it has been mentioned several in Wall Street for months that the Morgans, working with Drexel and Bonbright interests were forming a gigantic public utility combination in New York State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and parts of the South. With the Morgan United Corporation, public utility holding company, now in control of United Gas and Improvement of Philadelphia, it appears that the Morgans' interests have withdrawn. Wall Street can see no limit to the expansion of the Morgan-Drexel-Bonbright interests in public utilities with the Commonwealth & Southern holding company now making an offer to exchange its stocks for the stock of another public utility company in the middle west. Recently the Commonwealth & Southern made a private offer to exchange its stock for large concentrated holdings of middle west public utility companies. This offer is now made to all of the stockholders of the companies involved.

COOLIDGE REVEALS DISLIKE FOR WRITING

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge, in an interview published in the New York World today, discloses that writing as a career has no appeal to him.

Mr. Coolidge, who was in New York to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the New York Life Insurance Company, was asked whether he liked to write.

"I don't," he said. "Oh, I don't find it difficult to sit and write about something that I know very well, such as my own life, but a career of writing—such as I have seen—wasn't made for me."

The former president also disclosed that all his writing is done in long-hand.

He said he had heard of persons who couldn't write a word unless they sat at their typewriters.

"They always said that President Wilson had that habit," he added. "He would use just two or three fingers at his own machine. At least that was the story about Washington. I don't know if it's true."

Mr. Coolidge carried his left hand in a black silk handkerchief as a result of a sprain he suffered while on a fishing trip last week.

"I was just trying to land a big trout," he said. "I was so excited during the battle I slipped over a large rock and hurt my hand. The doctor says it's a bad sprain."

He was asked whether he got the fish.

"Oh, yes," he replied. "I landed him all right, and I guess he was worth it."

PROHI OFFICERS AMBUSHED, SHOT ON WAY TO RAID

Richmond, Va., June 13.—(AP)—S. C. O'Brien and George Johnson, county officers, were in a hospital here today with what physicians described as serious gunshot wounds received last night from ambush near here.

The officers, who were members of a group of six on their way to raid a still near Richmond, say they received shots from a party of men as they approached their destination.

Returning the fire, which was at close range, they saw another volley of shots come from the opposite direction from a second ambush, after which the negroes retreated.

Officers expressed the opinion that the attack was the result of a frame-up as one of the negroes admitted as a member of the firing party had given the information yesterday as to the location of the still.

STRIKERS' HEARING ON HABEAS CORPUS WRIT POSTPONED

Charlotte, N. C., June 13.—(AP)—Postponement of the habeas corpus proceedings for the release of 19 of the 47 strikers and union officials held in connection with the slaying of O. F. Adendorf, Gastonia chief of police, was denied the state by Justice W. S. Hardin in Mecklenburg superior court today. The hearings are set before Judge Harding for tomorrow morning.

Solicitor John G. Carpenter asked postponement of the hearing until two parapologists who were wounded when Adendorf was fatally shot in a clash last Friday at a plant at Gastonia headquarters of the National Textile Workers' Union, would be able to attend.

Tom P. Jimison, Charlotte attorney, appeared for the prisoners and asked that the hearings be held on the original date. He contended his clients had been held in jail unjustly for a week and should be allowed a hearing without further delay.

Thirteen of the 47 held are charged with murder. The prisoners include nine women.

Emory College Head Says Young People Are Bound for Hell

Miami, Fla., June 13.—(AP)—Young people are "bound for hell" and it is the purpose of religious organizations to save them and prepare them for the joys of life. Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory college, Atlanta, told the Florida conference of the Methodist church south, here today. The conference early to-day addressed a telegram of protest to the Florida legislature against proposed legislation to legalize part-marijuana.

ZIEGFELD ENTERS
GOLDWYN FIRM TO MAKE TALKIES

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Floren Ziegfeld, theatrical producer, and Sam Goldwyn, film producer, today announced the formation of the Ziegfeld-Goldwyn Corporation for the production of musical shows for the audible screen.

All-talking, color, singing and dancing films will be produced by the new company, which will release its first picture through United Artists Corporation, of which Mr. Goldwyn is an owner-member.

It was said at the Ziegfeld offices that musical shows already produced by Mr. Ziegfeld would be among the first films. Work will be begun in Hollywood early in January on the first picture.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—The eight-year-old effort for reapportionment of the house of representatives was dominated successfully today by Senate approval of the revised bill authorizing the 1930 census and reapportionment of house seats on the basis of that census.

It is the first of the four legislative proposals recommended to the extra session by President Hoover to be sent to the white house. Senator Jones, of Washington, the only republican leader, diverging from the senate committee to that fact after it had voted 48 to 37 for the measure as finally formulated in conference with house members.

Elimination by conferees of the amendment of the house of senators placing the 100,000 employees required for taking the census under civil service was protested before the vote was permitted. Eight democrats joined the republican majority in supporting the bill, and as many republicans voted with the democratic minority against it.

The measure not only authorizes a reapportionment before March 4, 1931, of the house on the basis of the 1930 census and on the basis of the present membership of 435, but also provides for automatic reapportionment on the house after every census.

The house has never revised its membership since the 1920 census, as any contend is required by the constitution.

The bill carries $46,000,000 for the taking of the census and stipulates that the census shall be begun on April 1.

Under the legislation, the president is directed to transmit to the house at the short session beginning in December, 1930 the results of the census to the state legislatures, so that the house to which each state shall be entitled under that census. If congress does not approve the reapportionment in that session, the presidential decree then goes into effect.

Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, author of the senate provision placing the census employees under civil service, led the protest against elimination of this amendment in the final draft of the bill. He joined Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Walsh, democrat, Montana, who contended it amounted to a surrender of the "spoils system." The bill does stipulate that the special agents required for taking the census be employed under civil service regulations, but the vast army of enumerators would be left to appointment.

Senate action on the bill will be taken at the end of the session.

Estes was taken to Grady hospital, where he admitted breaking into two other places tonight.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—The measure not only authorizes a reapportionment before March 4,

1931, of the house on the basis of the 1930 census and on the basis of the present membership of 435, but also provides for automatic reapportionment on the house after every census.

The house has never revised its membership since the 1920 census, as any contend is required by the constitution.

The bill carries $46,000,000 for the taking of the census and stipulates that the census shall be begun on April 1.

Under the legislation, the president is directed to transmit to the house at the short session beginning in December, 1930 the results of the census to the state legislatures, so that the house to which each state shall be entitled under that census.

If congress does not approve the reapportionment in that session, the presidential decree then goes into effect.

Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, author of the senate provision placing the census employees under civil service, led the protest against elimination of this amendment in the final draft of the bill. He joined

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Walsh, democrat, Montana, who contended it amounted to a surrender of the "spoils system."

The bill does stipulate that the special agents required for taking the census be employed under civil services regulations, but the vast army of
